Carmel Valley Outlook

Vol. VI, No. 48 | 10 Cents | November 21, 1967

ONE OF THE PORTRAITS in the exhibit by world-famous photographer Paul Strand to open Friday, Nov. 24 and continue through Dec. 31 at the Carmel Photography Center, Sunset Cultural Center, Carmel.

COLLECTING UNICEF cards and calendars from Distribution Chairman Mrs. George Dietterle (left) are Mrs. Louis Gardner and Mrs. John Senger, Valley co-chairmen. Mrs. Raymond Smith and Mrs. Ted Durein are Carmel Unicef chairmen.

The Christmas cards, notes and calendars which, through their sale, provide food and medicine for needy children the world over, may be purchased at the Carmel Post Office and at the Blue Sky Lodge in Carmel Valley.

Public hearing set on slope density by County Planning Commission

Proposed slope density formula for Carmel Valley was set for a Dec. 20 public hearing by the county planning commission last Wednesday.

Dec. 20 was also set for discussion of the CV flood plain report, prepared by the Army Engineers.

The PlanCom invited all interested to write or phone the county planning dept., Salinas, for copies of the proposed slope density formula.

Carmel Valley Property Owners Assoc. sponsored the original Spangle slope density study. Present proposal would regulate size of building sites, from one acre where grade is 20% to 10 acres for 62%.

Carmel High fall sports banquet Monday

Carmel High School fall sports banquet, sponsored by the Boosters Club, will be held next Monday evening at 6:30 at the Moose Lodge, Monterey.

Pres. Jim Kelsey will preside and letters and awards will be presented, with comments by coaches.

Information or tickets are available by calling Ralph Updike, 659-2416.

CUSD puts off decision on drug rules

Carmel Unified School District trustees decided to hold final decision on the board rules regarding use, possession and supply of illegal drugs until Superintendent Harris Taylor could be present. Taylor missed last week's CUSD meeting because of a speaking engagement.

Hilton Bialek who was absent during the first reading of the board rules the previous meeting, presented his own revision of the original version. He felt that some of the wording in the original and revised policies were hypocritical and suggested more definitive language. He also proposed in off-campus cases, that students be suspended, expelled or excluded from school when found to be "in violation of the existing drug laws by court," not when "under suspicion," as the present rules state.

At the Dec. 13 meeting, the matter will come before the board again. Trustee Steven Sassoon added that he felt the entire policy was still too weak.

The board also postponed final action on the rules regarding the granting of high school diplomas. Clayton Neill, president, said that they should be rewritten in language that we don't have to interpret.

The Friday after Thanksgiving was designated as a legal holiday for classified personnel in the district. They also approved a request from the chairman of the National Rugby Tournament to use the Middle School facilities on March 23 and 24.

A PRE-CHRISTMAS ART SUPPLEMENT IS IN THIS ISSUE.

Valley Thanksgiving services

C.V. Community Chapel

The Carmel Valley Community Chapel will hold a special Thanksgiving service, Wednesday, Nov. 22 at 8 p.m. Included will be a litany of Thanksgiving plus special music.

The Youth Choir will sing "Thanks Be to God," and Julie and Elaine Bennett will sing, "O Jesus I Have Promised."

Rev. Johnson will have a short meditation entitled, "Theology of Thanksgiving."

JACKIE BRAY, executive secretary of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Gallery, inspects a santo loaned for the November religious exhibit by Traylor Dunwoodie.

St. Philip's

Members of St. Philip's Lutheran have been collecting good children's clothing and bedding for a Thanksgiving clothing appeal during this month which will be sent to needy places in the world through Lutheran World Relief. The final day for responding to the project is this Sunday, Nov. 26.

The Lutheran Church located on Carmel Valley Rd. begins the tradition of offering to the community a Thanksgiving Day service of worship. It will be held at 10 a.m.

First Baptist

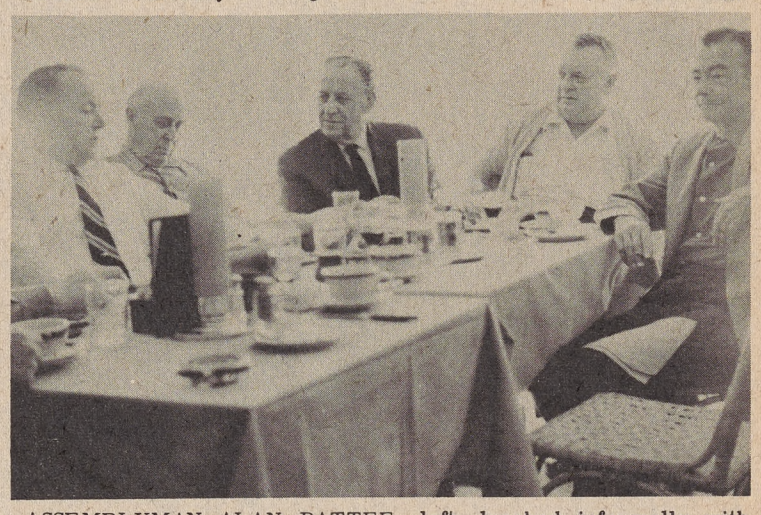
The congregation of the First Baptist Church of Carmel Valley will meet for its annual Thanksgiving Service Wednesday evening at 7:30. The Rev. Ned Holmgren will bring the message.

St. Dunstan's

St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church Thanksgiving service will be held at 10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day. The congregation is asked to bring, instead of financial contribution, new items suitable as Christmas gifts for young people or adults. These will be sold in Seaside for the benefit of "Toddlers House."

Community Church

The Community Church of Monterey Peninsula will unite with St. Philip's Lutheran Church Wednesday evening for a Thanksgiving service at 8 p.m. at the Community Church with the Rev. Bernhard Brethein of St. Philip's preaching.



ASSEMBLYMAN ALAN PATTEE, left, lunched informally with about a dozen Valley leaders last week at Rancho del Monte Country Club and hazarded the guess, without enthusiasm, that the Republican nomination might end up being what he called "an Eastern combine" of Gov. Rockefeller for President with Sen. Percy of Illinois for vice president. Others from left include Herb Brownell, Dr. Ed Marcucci, Rex White and Jim Large.

Cookery Corner

Featuring the favorite recipes of local cooks.

The Carmel Valley Women's Club has devised a pleasant way for homemakers to make a contribution to the Community Center Fund.

They sell, through three Village outlets, "Chef Howald's All 'N One Brand Seasoning." Fifty cents of each $1.00 purchase will go to the Center.

Club members use it themselves with fine results and herewith pass along some handy hints:

JULIE POWER says, "Sprinkle it on popcorn instead of salt"; MAIDI HENRY, a former Valleyite of catering fame, says, "It's especially good on spareribs; sprinkle generously before barbecuing or oven baking."

And MRS. RONALD STONEY passes on two recipes which are enhanced by this handy mix:

MRS. STONEY'S AVOCADO DIP

1 ripe avocado
1 lg. pkg. cream cheese
1 cup sour cream
1 to 2 T. all-purpose seasoning
juice of 1 lemon
1/2 tsp. salt

Blend together until creamy.

CHEESE OMELET

Make cream sauce with:
1/2 cup milk
1 T. butter
1 T. flour
Add:
1/2 cup grated cheddar
1 T. Howland's seasoning
3 beaten egg yolks
Fold into: Three stiffly beaten egg whites and bake until puffy and golden at 350. Serves two generously.

MORE IDEAS FOR HOWALD'S MIX

For FRENCH DRESSING add spice mix to taste to oil and vinegar. For CREAMY DRESSING use Avocado Dip recipe, thinning with cream; for flavorful LUNCHEON ROLLS just add 1 to 2 T. of the mix to prepared hot roll mixture. Add Howald's spice mix to taste to any stew recipe.

Buy it at The Thunderbird, The Grapevine, or The Village Liquor Store.

Lofton exhibit at Kellog Gallery

Drawings and watercolors never before exhibited by the late Richard Lofton are on display at a special exhibition at the Jean Kellogg Gallery in the Village Plaza, Carmel Valley.

A preview and reception was held to honor the wife and daughters of the artist and to open the show Nov. 11. The exhibit will continue thru Dec. 22.

CLUBS

Tularcitos Parents Club

Miss Mildred Armstrong will be the guest speaker at the Parents Club meeting to be held at Tularcitos School on Tuesday, Nov. 28 at 8 p.m.

Miss Armstrong will speak on the selection of books for elementary aged children and will also present an extensive display of reading materials for this age group.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Parents Without Partners

"Picking Up the Pieces" following the death or divorce of a marraige partner will be the subject of a Parents Without Partners panel discussion at their monthly general meeting on Thursday, Nov. 30, at 8 p.m. in the Monterey Youth Center in El Estero Park.

Scheduled to appear on the panel are psychiatrist Dr. Robert L. Goulding; the Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church; Mrs. Mary Edwards, psychiatric caseworker, and Mrs. Jane Sivertsen, clinical psychologist with the Monterey County Psychiatric Clinic. The public is invited.

Lionettes

The Carmel Valley Lionettes were hostesses at an Italian potluck dinner Nov. 11 for all of the members of the CV Lion's Club and their wives. Mrs. Kenneth Korver was chairman of the event held at the Community Center. Fifty-eight guests enjoyed the menu of lasagna, garlic bread, salads and wine.

Mrs. Korver had decorated the tables in the Lions' colors, purple and gold, with tapers in wine bottles.

Members of her committee included her husband, Ken, Mr. and Mrs. Sal Ocampo, Mr. and Mrs. Don Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Todd, Mrs. Clyde Hitchcock, and Mrs. Nick Skalyo.

The dinner was followed by dancing.

Sierra Club

A remarkable turnout of 26 members and guests took part in the chapter's first bike ride in Carmel Valley. The excursion was set up to appeal to all levels of riding ability, with one group pedaling in a leisurely manner directly to the lunch spot, where the hotshots met them after riding some miles beyond and returning. It was a hot day in Carmel Valley, but thanks to leader Sam Hopkins, soft drinks on ice were brought by car to the lunch spot. The enthusiastic response to this first bicycle excursion indicates that such trips have a regular place in the outing schedule.

Audubon Society

The Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will meet at 9 a.m. at the Safeway parking lot at the mouth of the Valley for a trip to Los Padres Dam, Wednesday, Nov. 29.

Kiwanis

The flourishing future of business aviation was outlined to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club Wednesday at Los Laureles Lodge by Dick Lane, vice president and general manager of Del Monte Aviation.

He was accompanied by Walter Stewart, owner of Del Monte Aviation, who lives in Carmel Valley.

Air traffic last year, Lane revealed, gave impressive totals of 34% for corporate planes and 18% for air taxi flights.

Because of the zooming air taxi business, Del Monte Aviation a year ago launched Del Monte Airways, based at San Francisco Airport, which serves as an adjunct to scheduled airlines. In addition to its home base at Monterey Airport, Del Monte Aviation recently took a long term lease at Salinas Airport, catering to corporate flying.

Initiated into CV Kiwanis by Lou Allaire were John Bulmer of Los Laureles Lodge and Gerhard Anders of CV Village's Little European Restaurant.

County Service Areas

Fifty-two "county service areas" are performing various chores in Monterey County. These are the new and unique governmental bodies created quietly and casually by the county board of supervisors to do a variety of jobs.

The two most obvious ones in this area are "county service areas" 42 and 43, whose main job is fire protection in the area adjacent to Carmel and for Pebble Beach.

These service areas made news this week by buying a second fire truck, as reported in Marjory Lloyd's "Carmel Currents" column in this issue.

Last week the board of supervisors approved annexation of Tierra Grande No. 3 subdivision in Carmel Valley to County Service Area No. 17, one of the original county service areas in Monterey County. This was created by the supervisors to finance and handle drainage and maintenance of "open space" in the development.

Property owners in Tierra Grande are taxed 49¢ per $100 assessed valuation by the county to support their county service area, whose chores are performed by county crews.

Tax rate for County Service Areas No. 43 which provides fire protection in areas adjacent to Carmel, is 25¢ and No. 42, for Pebble Beach is 18¢. Their two fire trucks are both based at the State Division of Forestry station on the Pacific Grove cutoff. The Service Area hires four firemen of its own and contracts for supplemental fire fighters on a standby basis from the State Division of Forestry.

County officials favor "county service areas" for a number of reasons. Although unsaid, one obvious one is that control remains with the board of supervisors. If a taxpayer has a complaint, he has to appeal to his supervisor and the other four supervisors in Salinas.

County service areas are aimed at being a halfway house between the laissez faire of county government and incorporation. What concerns some taxpayers is that county service areas pose the same threat of snowballing costs that incorporation and city government carry.

Service areas, which were launched by an act of the state legislature in 1960, are empowered (if the supervisors approve) to do a variety of things, from garbage collection to street lighting, fire protection, drainage and "open space" maintenance. The catch, of course, is that all authority rests with the supervisors in Salinas.

There no doubt has been a need for the services offered by county service areas. Property owners served are the only ones who pay, instead of the county as a whole for specialized services.

The county approves to the extent that it is official policy to launch county service areas with fair-sized new subdivisions.

Tax rates in the 52 service areas are set by the board of supervisors. The sky is the limit, for there is no maximum set as a ceiling.

IN SHORT

THE HOLIDAY minded Cub Scouts of Den 3 have opened their Christmas workshop in the Talbott Building. They will liven the scene working like elves on special decorations to help raise money for the Navajo Indian family whose Christmas they brighten each year with gifts and food.

A GREAT possibility for one of the currently popular zany bumper strips came out of a happening last week on Rancho Road..."Georffrey De Havilland is bagged in Carmel Valley!"

Airline pilot Don Draper received a chipmunk for his Sept. 29 birthday and promptly christened the little fellow "Geoffrey De Havilland Draper," in honor of the famous designer of aircraft who named one of his planes "the Chipmunk."

When "G.D.H.D." took flight from his cage the other night the family was thrown into a frenzied search hoping to capture him before the cat did. Time passed and all hope was gone, when Kaye plugged in the vacuum cleaner to discover to her annoyance that something had lodged in the pipe. Suddenly the obstruction broke loose and was sucked into the tank at the very time Kaye realized that she must have found Geoffrey! Snatching off the tank cover she saw his two beady little eyes filled with accusations and chattering angrily about his unscheduled breaking of the sound barrier!

Back in his cage once again and revived by a teaspoon of alcoholic stimulant, G.D.H.D. seems resigned to leave the adventures in space to his professional master!

'Elderberry' file

To Outlook's Carmel Editor:
Dear Mrs. Lloyd,

This is to tell you how very pleased I was when I read the nice article you did on me for The Carmel Valley Outlook. But when I got to that last paragraph, I felt like the little old lady in the story whose petticoat was cut round about—"could this be truly I." You have bracketed me with some impressive company!

I thought the article was beautifully organized and written and it has gone into the "Elderberry" file as one of its proudest items.

Mrs. Bruggeman's reviews were delightful along with those excellent reproductions of illustrations from the books. The whole blessed page makes an imposing landmark along the highway of my literary life. Nothing quite like it has ever happened to me before.

Thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Doris Gates

SCHOOL NOTES

Second Time

Sandpiper Bags Top Award

The Sandpiper has again been awarded the top All-American rating by the National Scholastic Press Association for outstanding journalism in the 66-67 school year.

The NSPA awards these ratings after separately judging and analyzing each publication. Not only do the judges criticize the publications, but they point out where and how improvements can be made.

The Sandpiper was rated superior for its balance of the coverage of the news, along with its good feature articles, editorials and photographs. The opinion column, make-up and general quality of the paper were also rated as excellent.

Suggestions for improvement made by the NSPA were mostly those of a technical nature: more subheads could be used, lead paragraphs could be brightened, etc.

Each publication judged by the NSPA is compared to the 6,000 other publications which come from all 50 states and several foreign countries.

NSPA awards ratings to newspapers and yearbooks in five classes. Top award is All-American, given to superior publications (usually received by only ten to fifteen per cent of the publications entered in each critical service).

The Rhyming Philosopher

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving, dawn to night,
Eating and drinking, speeding precious hours
But never thinking lest we waste our powers,
Nor contemplate why we should have this right.
We concentrate to sate our appetite
And rest secure within these iv'ry towers,
As though no stomach craves as much as ours.
And he who mentions want is impolite.
Good grief! The food would turn to bitter gall
And stick within my throat had I not first
Bowed low my head and asked the God of all
That others, too, may eat and slake their thirst,
And cup my tears that needed rains may fall
Or give this food to those who need it worst.

Think not I shun tradition's festive meal
Nor recommend today a useless fast;
But can't we ask when giving thanks, to feel
The depth of gratitude, that this repast
Or one just like it may by this appeal
Be spread for all that hunger? Have YOU asked?

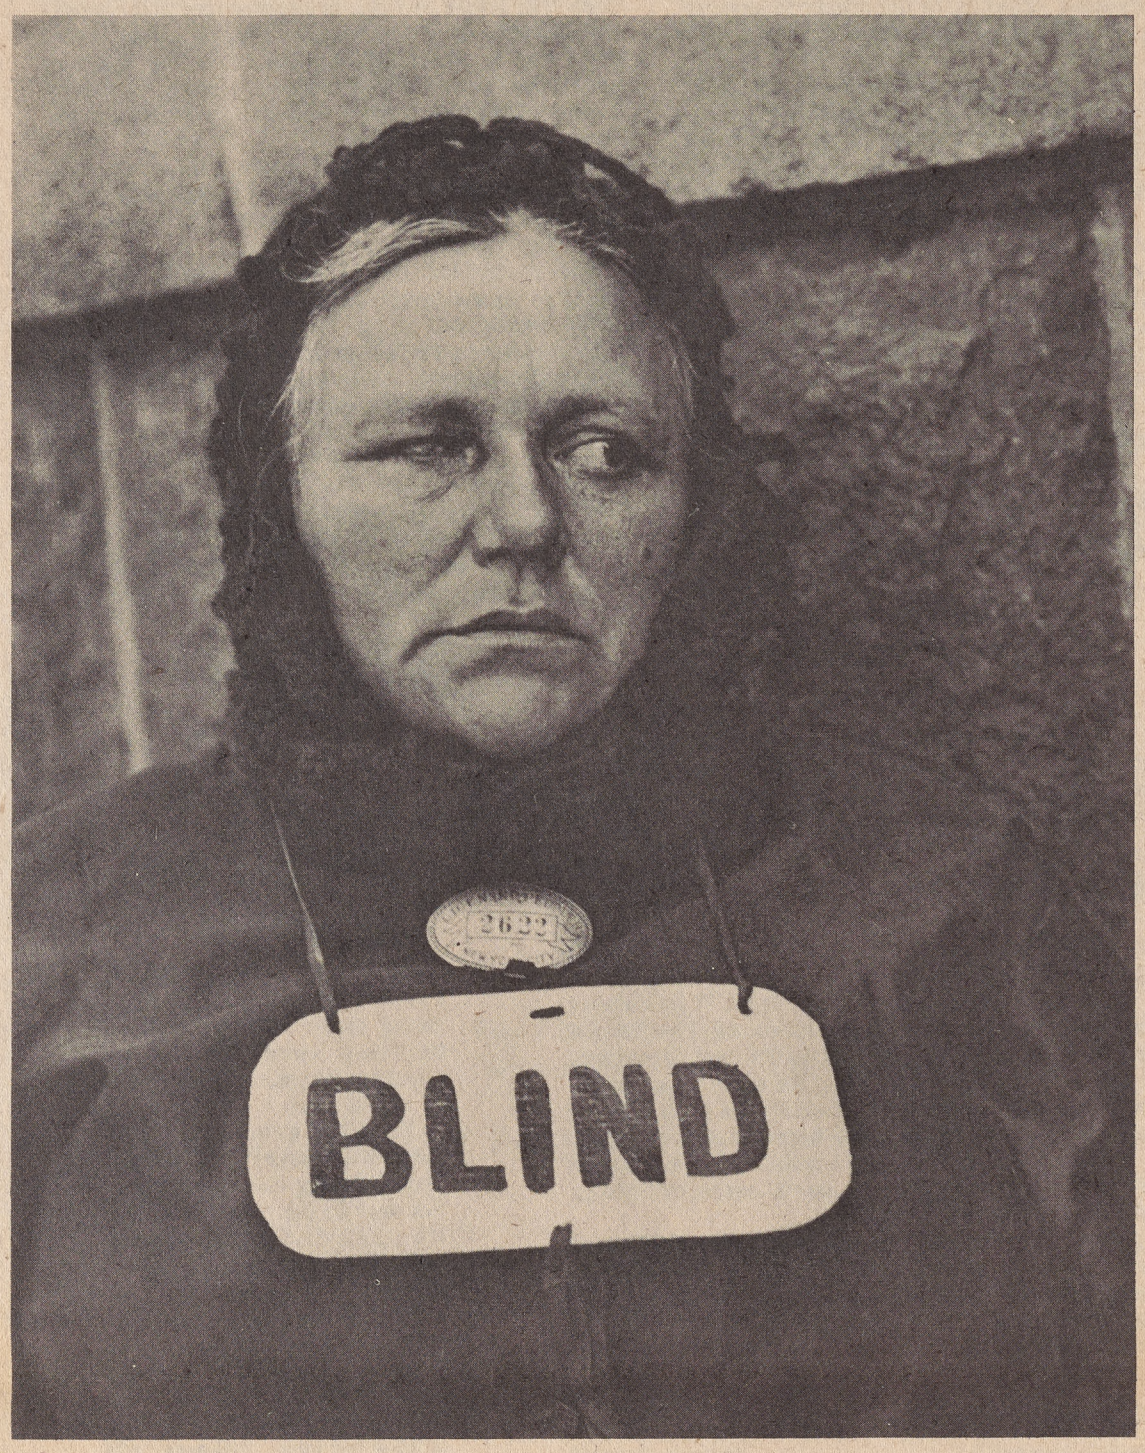
Paul Strand show opening at Photography Center, Sunset Center

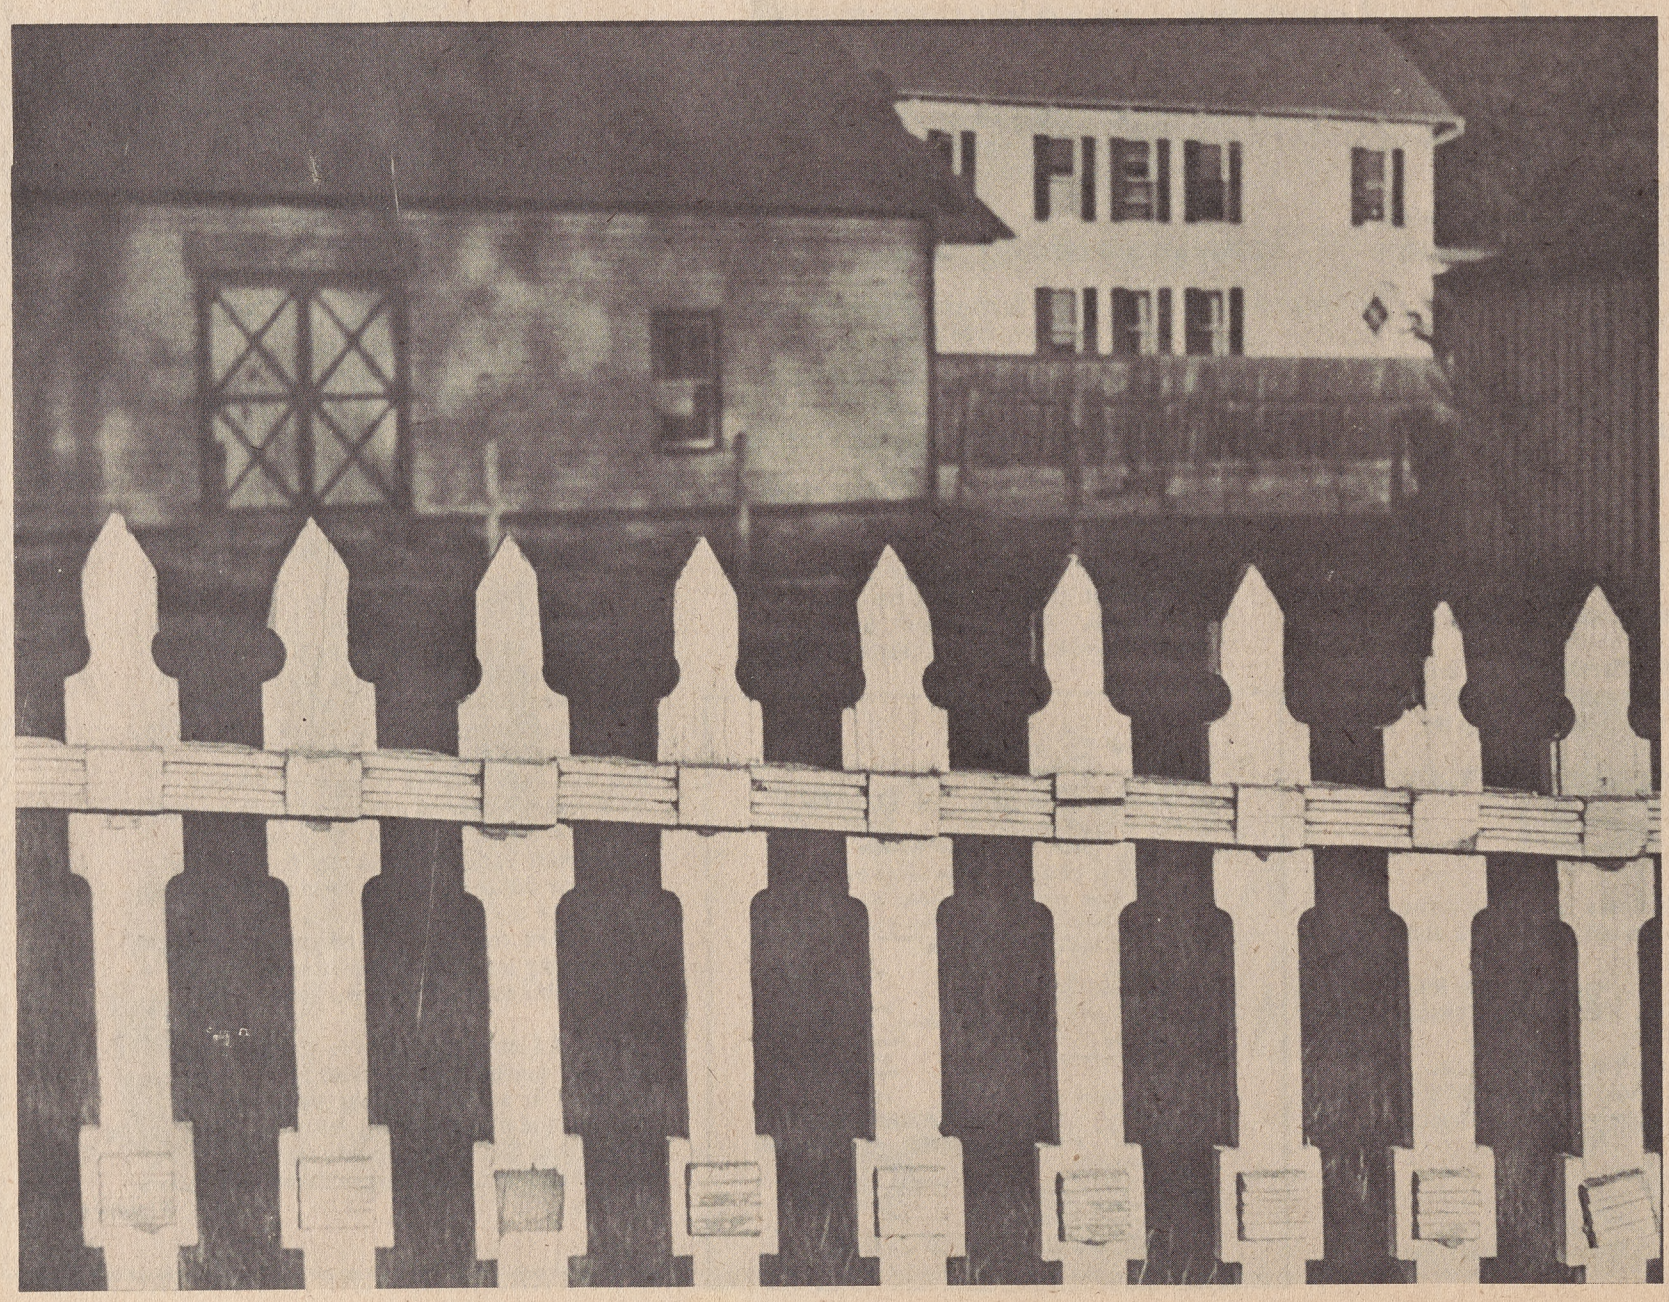


The Blind Girl

"One of strongest influences in development of photography"

Portrait of Paul Strand, Orgeval. 1957
By Paolo Gasparini

New England Farm



Public invited to opening of exhibit Friday evening

The public is cordially invited to the opening of an exhibit of photography by world-famous photographer Paul Strand this Friday evening beginning at 8 at the Carmel Photography Center, Sunset Center.

The invitation is issued by Friends of Photography, the non-profit organization, which sponsors the unique photography gallery and center.

The exhibit is through the courtesy of George Eastman House, Rochester, N.Y., and Ansel Adams.

or 50 years Paul Strand has been one of the strongest influences in photography development. His work is noted for noble style and emotional depth and respect for the subject matter, which varies widely, as shown on this page, from New England to Mexican scenes.

Born in 1890 in New York City, Strand is of Bohemian descent. He now lives in Orgeval, France, where he is working on books on Egypt and Ghana, the result of recent trips to these countries.

Books which he has published include "Time in New England" with Nancy Newhall, "Tir A Muhrain, The Outer Hebrides," with Basil Davison. He has also written numerous articles for leading magazines.

trand decided to become a photographer after joining a class given in 1907 by Lewis Hine and visiting Alfred Stieglitz's "Photo-Secession Gallery (291)." Nine years later, he had his first one-man show at "291".

In 1921, Strand with Charles Sheeler made the movie "Manhatta," which was acclaimed here and in Europe as the first documentary with an abstract, poetic approach. Later films included "The Wave" for the Mexican government and "The Plow that Broke the Plains" under the direction of Pare Lorentz for the U.S. government.

Strand has exhibited in leading museums and is represented in the collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Modern Art, Stieglitz Archive of Yale University Library, George Eastman House, University of New Mexico and numerous private collections.

Fire protection

Almost three years to the day from the formation of Monterey County Services Areas Nos. 42 and 43, county fire protection equipment will be ready to roll from the Carmel Hill Station of the California State Division of Forestry.

All through the unincorporated territory surrounding the City of Carmel, in Pebble Beach and up Carmel Valley hydrants are installed.

If this were the best of all possible worlds, none of this equipment would ever be used. But fire does strike.

FORMATION... On Dec. 14, 1965, following public hearings, the service areas were formed by the Monterey County Board of Supervisors at the request of two former members of this body, Thomson J. Hudson and Beauford T. Anderson.

COMMITTEE... After establishment, Hudson appointed ten persons, five from each service area, as a committee to negotiate for fire protection equipment and personnel. Col. St. E.P. Tyner is the chairman of this group.

TERRITORY... Service Area No. 42 embraces all of the land within Del Monte Properties Co. gates along the extent of the 17 Mile Drive. Service Area No. 43 includes Hacienda Carmel, Del Mesa Carmel, Carmel Views, Rancho Rio Vista, Carmel Knolls, South Carmel Hills, Carmel Hills, High Meadow, Rancho Mar Monte, Carmel Woods, Carmel Point, Mission Tract, Walker Tract, Mission Fields, Hatton Fields Mesa, also residential and commercial areas at the entrance to Carmel Valley.

TAXING BASE... A service area is a county property taxing unit, with no set taxation ceiling, formed to provide services desired by residents. These include, among others, fire protection, drainage and open space maintenance. Monterey County has 40 such areas. Establishment of these areas is mandatory to provide services for new developments.

The assessed value of property in a service area is the taxing base. According to county figures, the taxing base of Service Area No. 43 is $17,922.390. On this amount, this year, is levied a 25 cent property tax per $100 of assessed valuation. Five cents of the tax covers the cost of hydrants rented from California-American Water Co. at $4.50 each month. The other 20 cents is to provide fire fighting equipment and personnel, also establish a reserve fund for future capital acquisitions. Last year the tax was 18 cents.

EQUIPMENT... Ordered and expected to be delivered in January is a Class A fire truck being built in Oakdale by the Van Pelt Co. Fully equipped, it will cost $38,000.

According to Harry McAuley, assistant state forest ranger in charge of the Carmel Hill station, this truck has a hauling capacity of 700 gallons and will pump 1,000 gallons a minute when attached to a hydrant.

Just purchased, for $1,000, from the Monterey Fire Dept., is a 20-year-old International fire truck which will be used as a standby to the new truck. McAuley says this is "a good piece of equipment." It has a speedometer reading of 6,700 miles and some fittings. More will be purchased bringing the total cost of this truck to $4,000, according to H.P. Seymour, a member of the fire protection committee.

The war in Vietnam makes it hard to acquire fire engine fittings Seymour pointed out. Until such time as they are provided, McAuley has promised to loan what is needed such as hose and ladders. Before this truck can operate, a license must be obtained from the county. This will take "a month or two." Both trucks will become county property.

PERSONNEL... The trucks will be operated by personnel attached to Carmel Hill Station under a contract between Monterey County and the California State Division of Forestry. Scheduled this week is a meeting between county officials and the fire protection committee to discuss a personnel budget. Required will be ten employees — one driver and two firemen each eight-hour shift of every 24-hour period, plus a dispatcher. The service area will pay only three-sevenths of the latter's salary. Total personnel cost is estimated at $6,000 a month or $72,000 a year. In addition to answering alarms, the personnel will maintain all equipment including radio.

FUTURE... Seymour predicts that in the future the Pebble Beach service area will be separated from Service Area No. 43 and equipment split. At this time, the latter area will acquire a fire station at the entrance to Carmel Valley. Land for this building, architectural services and construction materials will be donated by a donor whose name is "confidential," Seymour stated.

He also predicts that, within four to five years, one truck and a standby will be inadequate fire protection for Service Area No. 43 where increased development will result in "double exposure" for this equipment. Another truck will be needed to give "sufficient property protection." Cost of the additional truck, it is planned, will be covered by the capital outlay reserve fund accumulating yearly.

NEW DEVELOPMENT .... Since formation of Service Area No. 43, Holiday Inn has been built. Resort development is planned nearby. A new Safeway store is under construction in adjacent Carmel Rancho shopping center. Being developed are new subdivisions, Carmel Views and High Meadow, also Del Mesa Carmel planned adult community. In the planning stage is other development of a commercial nature at the entrance to the Valley.

MOTIVATION ... Motivating force for the formation of Service Area No. 43 was the Carmel Suburban Area Council, an organization of property owners formed to deal with problems common to the unincorporated county territory on the periphery of the City of Carmel, and headed by Harold C. Arnot. Fire protection was the prime goal of this organization. After establishment of a fire protection service area, the group reorganized under the name of Service Area No. 43 with John S. Coates as president, and held its last meeting in April. This was a stormy session.

At that time, "young blood tried to move in and take over," implied Seymour, a founding member of the organization. He

Spry Senora Ramos celebrates 105 years

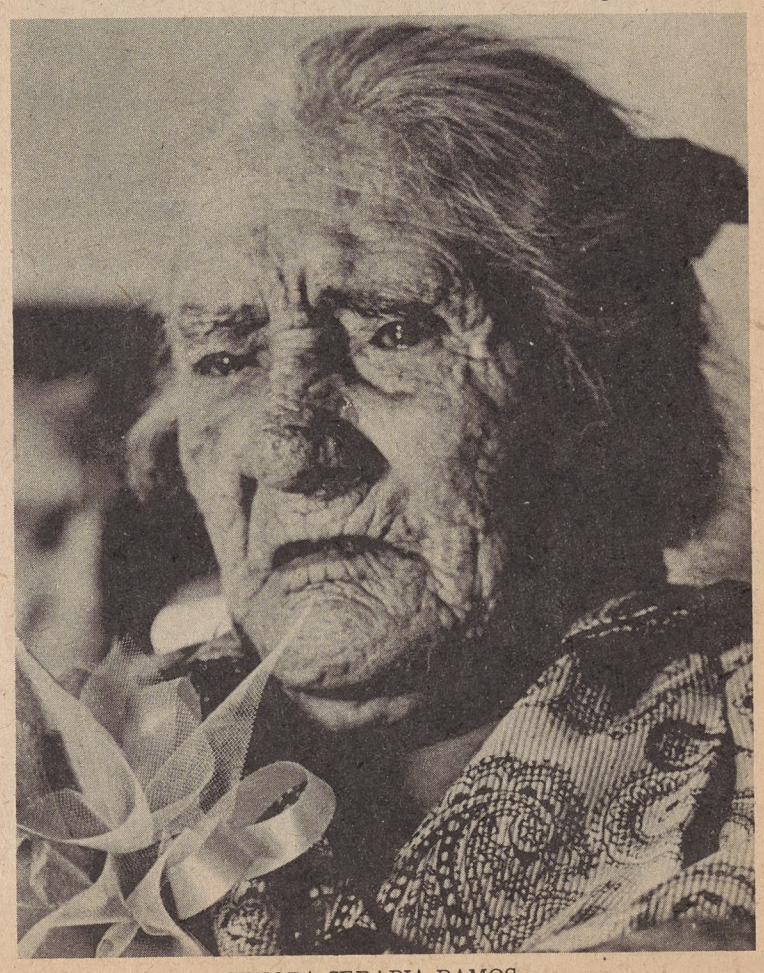
"I'd like to have a couple of aprons to wear later," was the birthday request of Senora Serapia Ramos at the Carmel Convalescent Hospital. This might not seem too unusual, but Mrs. Ramos was celebrating her 105th birthday!

The Carmel Valley Lionettes who regularly plan birthday parties for the patients at the hospital really enjoyed making the arrangements for this spry and alert old lady. Since Mrs. Ramos speaks no English at all, they brought Mrs. Aguilina Zarazua along as translator. No one at the hospital speaks Spanish either, so the birthday guest of honor really rattled on, relaying messages to those who were there for the party.

Mrs. Ramos was born in Mexico on Nov. 11 in 1862. She has a niece in Montana but no relatives locally.

She has been a patient at the hospital since 1963, and in spite of being 105 years old she still gets around on her own... and her favorite foods are cold potatoes and tortillas!

A huge cake was served to Mrs. Ramos and others whose birthdays were in November and the Lionettes presented her with a magnificent orchid along with the desired aprons.



SENORA SERAPIA RAMOS

over the head. But the Lionettes kept searching and finally found the right ones, which pleased Mrs. Ramos immensely.

These were probably the most difficult part of the party since Mrs. Ramos wanted the kind of "pinafore" apron that slips

Carmel Business Assoc. elects

Four members of the executive committee of the Carmel Business Assoc. were elected last week.

They include Don Chapman of Crocker-Citizens Bank, James Peter Cost of Cost Seascape Gallery, Stan Ewig of Ewig's gift shop, and Ashton Stanley of Colonial Terrace.

New officers will be announced and installed at the annual dinner dance at the Beach Club Thursday evening, Nov. 30. Deadline for reservations is Nov. 27 when they must be paid, $7.50 per person.

Social time starts at 6:30, dinner at 8, with dancing to Neil Armstrong orchestra until 1.

All Carmel shops are invited to participate in a Christmas expressions contest and cash awards of $100, $50 and $25 will be awarded for window decorations. Dec. 1 is date for "Christmas light-up" in Carmel.

Stamp Club has dinner

New officers for the coming year were honored at the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club installation dinner held Tuesday at the Pine Inn.

Bernard Anderson of Carmel was installed as president with Margaret Barnes, also of Carmel, as 1st vice president. Dick Spung and Grace Montgomery of Pacific Grove, took office as 2nd vice president and treasurer.

Alice Harwood of Carmel Valley is secretary of the club for 1967-68.

Christmas Creations to be previewed with champagne

BETTY FERRAR TRICKETT (right) made the table centerpiece of a beautifully gnarled grape stump with hanging ornaments and June Braught (left) designed and made the gold pine cone tree on the end of the table. The striking arcylic painting, "Star of Bethlehem," is the work of 11-year-old Mary Fielding. These are but a few of the many items to be offered at the annual Christmas Creations show, sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association on Dec. 5-6 at the Mark Thomas Inn.

The annual champagne preview to the Christmas Creations show will be held at the Mark Thomas Inn on Tuesday, Dec. 5 from 6-8 p.m. The show and sale itself are the next day with hours from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Tuesday evening all the fabulous creations will be on display and preview guests have first chance to purchase prior to the public opening on Wednesday.

Tickets for the preview are $3 each and include an opportunity to win one of the fabulous door prizes. Ticket holders need not be present at the drawing to win a one week round trip vacation for two to Kona Plantation, Hawaii; a Sony television set; a surprise from I. Magnin; or individual Maine Chance Days at the Arden Salon in San Francisco.

The Christmas Creations on display and for sale are made by local residents and donated to the association. Judges for the creations are William Ober, Malcolm Moran and Donald Buby.

Anyone who is interested in making a creation may call the Museum (624-2918) for further information or to arrange for pickup and storage.

Fonteyn-Nureyev film to benefit Museum of Art

When the Royal Ballet first presented "Romeo and Juliet" in London, the company earned 40 minutes of continuous ovation. The Prokofief ballet featuring Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev was filmed in full color as presented in Covent Garden Theatre.

This motion picture will be brought to Carmel by the Carmel Museum of Art and shown at the Village Theatre Dec. 13-19. Tickets are now on sale at the museum, the only place they may be obtained, between the hours of 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

Ticket reservations may be made by telephoning 624-1424 during the same hours.

The film is being presented as a community presentation of the new museum which shows work of the early Carmel-Monterey art colony.

Youth Orchestra opens season Holiday week

The Monterey County Symphony Youth Orchestra presents its first concert of the season on Nov. 26 at 3 p.m. in the Salinas High School Auditorium, adding music to climax Thanksgiving week.

More than 50 talented youngsters will perform under the direction of Jan deJong. There is no charge for this special community concert, now in its fifth year.

Sunday afternoon's concert will include two operatic pieces – the overture to Rossini's "The Italian Woman in Algiers" and a suite from Bizet's "Carmen." A selection from "Dance Rhythms" by Wallingford Riegger and the first movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" are also scheduled. For the finale, "Finlandia" by Sibelius will be presented.

Wide Mexico on Explorerama

The two-hour color travel adventure film, "Wide, Wide Mexico," will be shown at Sunset Auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 2, at 8:15 p.m. Chris Borden will narrate this final program of the current Explorerama series, sponsored by the Explorers Club of San Francisco. Proceeds provide scholarships to science students throughout the country.

Highlights of the film include views of Mexico City, Taxco, Pureto Vallarta, Guadalajara, Guaymas, Mazatlan, Vera Cruz, San Cristobal Las Casas, and Morelia.

THE HOULE CONSORT – George Houle, oboe; Alfred Loeffler, viola da gamba; Margaret Fabrizio, harpsichord; and Anna Carol Dudley, soprano – will present a concert of Renaissance and baroque Christmas music Wednesday, Nov. 22, at Monterey Peninsula College. The program, free to the public, will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall.

Paintings and collages by MPC art instructors Alex Gonzales, Robert Nelson and Joseph Ataide and glass sculpture by Joseph Hysong are currently on exhibition in the Monterey Peninsula College library.

Also showing are "A View of Peninsula Artists," which includes two display cases of crafts by Denis Wagner, Jeanne Inwood, Susan Wagner, Robert Grabowski, Joseph Hysong and Studio Weavers; floral decorations by Mrs. DeForest Sweeney; and a painting by Willard Hunter, a student at Portola Junior High School.

On display from the college's permanent collection are paintings by William A. Rabinovitch and the late Abel Warshawsky.

Colorful algae exhibit at P.G. Nature Museum

A collection of pressed marine algae by the seaweed artist Priscilla Blesch McKown of Burlingame is currently on exhibition at the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History.

Mrs. McKown's work, though independently discovered, is a revival of a once flourishing pastime of the early 1900's, in which the great beauty of these saltwater plants was utilized for wall and notebook paper decoration.

The vivid color and delicate form are the actual seaweeds themselves, which when properly pressed do not lose their often brilliant shades. The natural mucilage of the seaweeds permanently fixes them to the mounting paper.

Monterey Bay is the center of the West Coast's seaweed distribution and is far richer in the number of species than any other area on the West Coast

P.S. How about something unique for those little gifts at Christmas time.

Works of art for Christmas giving

The Monterey Peninsula abounds in exceptional paintings and sculpture to please the most discriminating at Christmastime

Christmastime and art are synonymous in many ways. Homes are decorated artistically, packages are wrapped artistically, people are dressed artistically, and through artwork the real meaning of Christmas under the glitter has been portrayed through the centuries.

Christmas, the season of giving, is a perfect time to think of gifts of artwork. A painting or piece of sculpture have become popular gift items in recent years and can give enjoyment to the recipient through many seasons.

Early paintings were religious in motif and many contemporary artists still pursue this theme. With both traditional and modern art to choose from, even the most difficult person who has everything can be remembered with an original art treasure.

To help guide Santa Claus through the Peninsula art galleries, The Outlook presents this special art edition, with emphasis on Christmas giving. We hope you enjoy your tour.

MONTEREY PENINSULA
MUSEUM OF ART

The Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art exists to provide a showcase for the best of contemporary art being done by artists of note in areas other than the Peninsula and to exhibit outstanding work of the past in order to provide a continuing source of cultural pleasure to the people of the entire Monterey Peninsula and its environs.

We are presently forming plans to acquire a centrally-located museum site with adequate space for workshops, lectures and for our continually growing permanent collection.

To these ends, the Museum actively solicits the support of all members of the community, as individual members or as commercial sponsors.

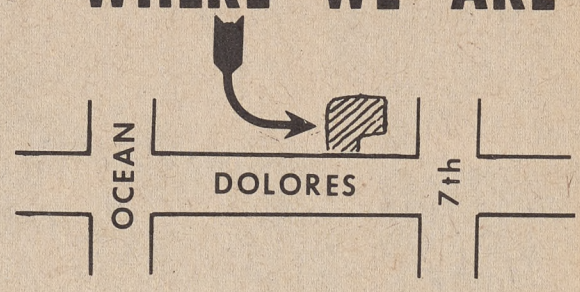
CARMEL – SAN FRANCISCO

When people ask us about the Studio, we often wish we could give them a neat little brochure so as not to forget anything. Here it is.

The STUDIO

Theatre and Restaurant

WHERE WE ARE

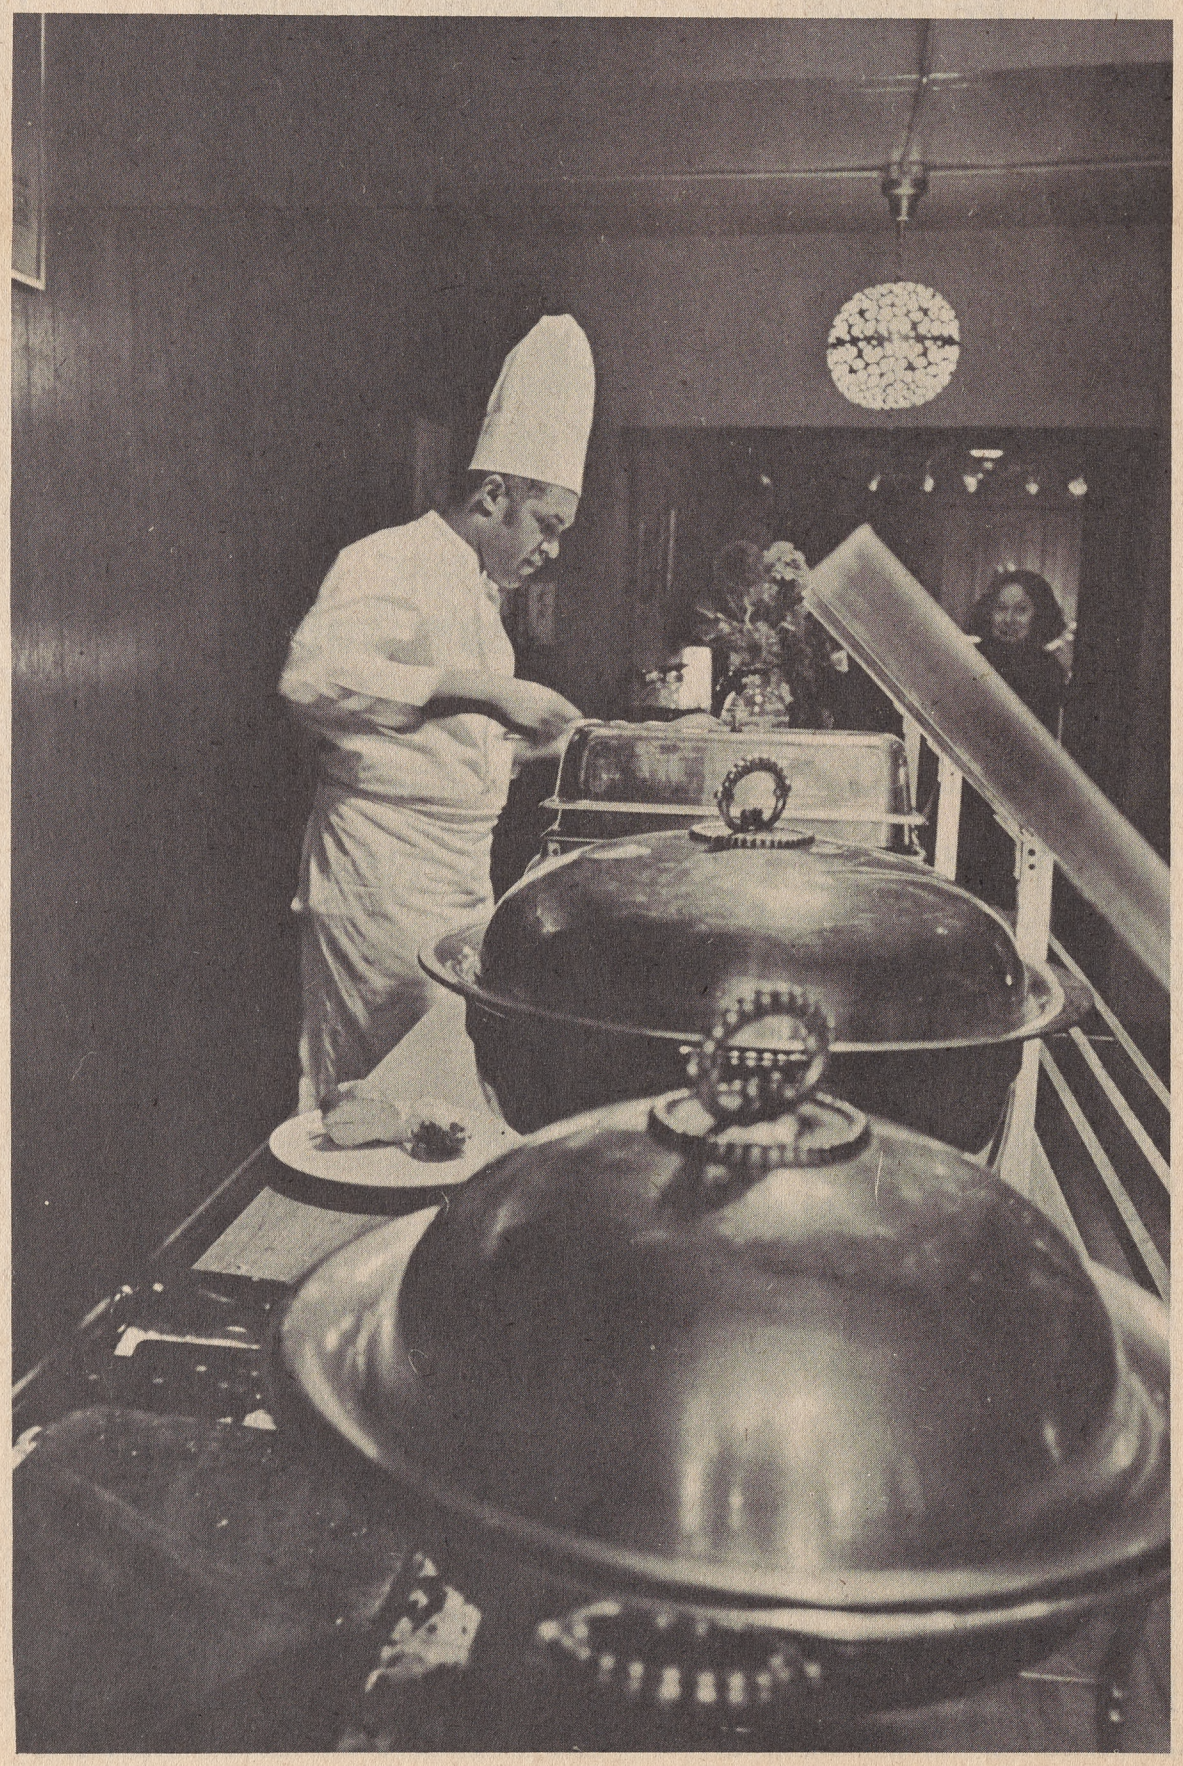


The Studio is on Dolores Street, one half block south of Ocean. We're across the street from Seven Seas and the Castle in Carmel and right next door to Ted's Liquor Store. We give you this much detail because our entrance may be a little hard to find the first time.

WHAT WE DO

The Studio is primarily a dinner-theatre. We offer a stage show nightly except Monday during July and August and on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights the rest of the year. It's usually a fairly recent Broadway hit, though sometimes we revive an old favorite. Most often it's something light and amusing, but once in a while we change moods with a good solid drama. From time to time we do musical comedy. You can pretty well count on an entertaining show at the Studio.

Our curtain time is 8:30 and we try to finish by 10:30.



We start serving dinner as early as 6:30, but the best hour to come is 7 to 7:15 as this lets us serve you and clear the table with a minimum of waiting time before the curtain. We discourage people from coming after 7:30 because this rushes them and us.

OUR DINNER

OUR THEATRE DINNER

Tossed Green Salad

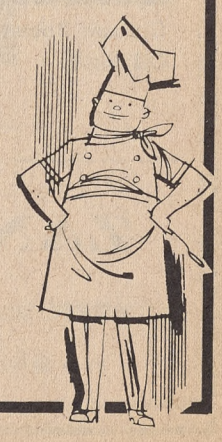
Roast Beef Corned Beef Baked Ham

Chef's Baked Potato

Vegetable Hot Rolls & Butter

Dessert Coffee, Tea or Milk

We wouldn't call ourselves a gourmet restaurant, but it's solid American fare, generously served, and our fan mail runs heavily in favor of it.



WHAT WE CHARGE

With an orchestra for a New York show costing $7.50, we're pleased that we can offer both dinner and show for $6. That's a pretty good value compared with Broadway or Las Vegas.

$6	DINNER and SHOW

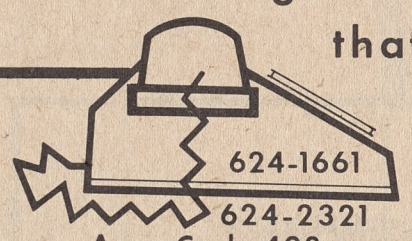
$3	SHOW

Of course you can come for just the show without dinner in which case the tariff is $3.

RESERVATIONS

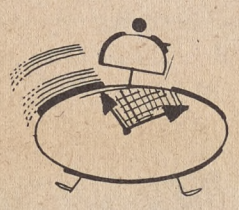
We don't even ask for payment in advance. It's as simple as dialing 624—1661 (or if that fails to answer, 624—2321) and making a reservation. All we request is that you will give us reasonable advance notice if you can't come so that we can resell the space. Fairer than that we can't be.



Area Code 408
P.O. Box 3591 Carmel, CA 93921

LUNCHEON

So far we haven't mentioned lunch. We're open every day from 11:30 to 2:30 except Monday and except the four days immediately preceding a new show when we're too busy setting the stage. Every day we offer a special luncheon, currently $1.10, which is one of Carmel's Best Buys.



OUR LUNCHEON

Tossed Green Salad

*Specialty Of The Day

Chef's Baked Potato

Bread & Butter Coffee or Tea

*for example, beef burgundy, beef stroganoff, Yankee pot roast, Swiss steak, beef stew, baked meat loaf, Swedish meatballs & noodles, creamed ham on toast.

On Sunday we go to our $1.25 lunch featuring roast beef or roast turkey with dressing and cranberry sauce plus salad, baked potato, bread & butter, coffee or tea.

If the table d'hote lunch doesn't appeal to you, we have hot open-faced sandwiches of roast beef, corned beef or baked ham at 95¢ and generous chef's salad at $1. Most days we have homemade pecan, pumpkin or rhubarb pie fresh from the oven at 30¢.

Walter Jones, our chef, has been with us since we started serving food. We swear by him and so do our regular guests.

We neglected to mention that we serve our lunch buffet style, but someone is always ready to carry your meal to your table if you wish. Our theatre dinner is served at your table except for the entree which we invite you to have carved to your individual order by Walter at the buffet.

PARTIES

We will allow a modest concession on our less crowded nights for groups that guarantee a minimum number, usually 60. The Studio has become a popular place for theatre-dinner parties of all sizes up to our maximum of 100. It's an idea for an unusual birthday or anniversary celebration too.

Most people like our non-commercial atmosphere, our gay directors chairs, the lighted candles at night, our attention to your particular preferences as soon as we get to know them. To us the Studio is a very personal business and each patron a guest to whom we offer individual hospitality. It is also our aim to offer the best possible value for the money whether you come for our special lunch or our dinner and show combination.

We hope this wasn't too long or dull for you to read. But if you got this far, may we extend a warm invitation to visit us soon for lunch, dinner or show or just to become acquainted.

Service areas

cited lack of interest and funds for disinterest in holding more meetings.

"It takes money to circularize 4,000 voters," he observed. What was fair representation from each area was an unsolved matter at the last meeting. With fire protection provided, no immediate problems now exist in the unincorporated areas, he added.

MEETING ... Last week, Service Area No. 43 President Coates said another meeting is planned "for the end of this year or the first of next year." He is "waiting for developments before setting a definite date" but was "not talking about" what these developments may be.

PRESENT PROTECTION... Until such time as the county equipment purchased by taxpayers in Service Areas Nos. 42 and 43 is ready to operate, fire protection in the areas will be provided by state division of forestry personnel and equipment at the Carmel Hill Station under a contract between the county and the division. Ranger McAuley says he is anxious to get the new county equipment which will provide more adequate protection for the extensive territory comprising the service areas. Present equipment is sent also to all fires in the much larger area protected by the Carmel Hill Station. The new county equipment will not respond to fires outside Service Areas No. 42 and 43. Personnel to man the new fire truck and its standby will remain on duty at the station at all times.

COST-BENEFIT BUDGETING... Carmel's annual budget should show exactly what each city service costs in relation to the benefit to citizens, Dr. Melvin Speckler, management consultant under contract to the city, suggested at last week's council study session, the first of three.

The present "non-program" form of budgeting "looks as though the business of Carmel is to provide employment, retire bonds, to rent and lease equipment," he remarked.

Urging a revised format based on cost-benefit analysis, Steckler presented this year's budget in a new form. Benefits are categorized with total costs including insurance and retirement allocations specific to each benefit, rather than separating the latter costs as in the present budget format. Capital outlay and construction costs, if any, also any bond retirement. are included in each benefit category, not separated as done previously. Steckler's cost-benefit analysis presentation enables a citizen to see exactly what each benefit costs and its impact in respect to the tax rate.

For example, in his sample budget based on the 1967-68 adopted budget, nine categories are presented with total costs. They are central administration, $83,448; police protection, $214,666; fire protection, $123,010; public works (street dept.), $242,934; building inspection, $32,422; planning, $12,682; civic and public services, $13,165; cultural activities, $95,298; Harrison Memorial Library, $85,800.

Steckler termed the above budget format "a statement of services in terms of cost."

Mayor Steve Grant observed, "You can take a sheet like this and set goals."

City Administrator Hugh Bayless foresaw that the proposed type of budgeting would enable him to answer accurately councilmen's questions during budget sessions. City Finance Officer Arthur Plaxton said it would be "quite possible" to adopt cost-benefit budgeting.

Councilman William Sefton liked the new format as it gave a true picture of where city money was going. Councilman Gunnar Norberg approved separation of "housekeeping" from acquisitions in the change. Councilman Herbert Blanks remarked the new approach would be helpful. Councilman Eben Whittlesey saw the new format's advantage in achieving long range goals for the city by means of capital outlay cost-benefit analysis. This area of budgeting has been neglected, he said, because councils have been tax rate oriented and afraid to spend for the future – a false and improvident approach."

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hansen who have returned to their Valley home on Country Club Dr. after a five month tour of Europe. Their tour began with a flight to New York, and from the States to Rome where they spent ten days before going to Naples. Enroute they visited Pompeii.

Arriving in Sicily they boarded a bus to explore it from Palermo on the northern coast to Taromina in the southernmost part. They were inspired by the beauty of Mt. Etna and overwhelmed with the friendliness expressed everywhere by the Italian people. The cities of Verona and Venice were added to the interesting places which the Hansens especially enjoyed.

Next they flew to Copenhagen where they have many relatives and friends. Here they met Mrs. John Hughes of the Valley and had the pleasure of showing her many places missed by the average tourist not fortunate enough to have personal guides.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Espinosa of the Wagon Wheel Picnic Grounds have added another "D" to their family tree with the arrival on Nov. 4 of a baby boy who has been named Derrek Gene. The family anticipate a double celebration each year since Dean's birthday is Nov. 8. The 6 1/2 pound baby's middle name is in honor of his uncle.

Waiting to welcome him home from the Community Hospital were his sister, Deanetta, and brothers Daryl, Dewayne, Darwin and Doug. Grandparents included Mrs. Dorothy Buelna of the Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Louie Simpson of Showlow, Ariz.

Remembering Hawaii as such a wild array of color beside which our own Peninsula for the moment seems colorless are Ruth and Rex Pryer who just returned from a visit in Waikiki where they visited with friends, Betty and Jim Campbell, former residents of Carmel, and a Stanford Law School classmate of Rex's, and his family who also reside there. The Valley couple enjoyed skin diving, the tour of Oahu, a Don Ho show, and a visit to the island of Kahoolawe.

Daughters Sandra and Nancy who remained at the family home on Calle de la Paloma with a friend were delighted with their gift from the islands, matching grass skirts!

The Valley Bridge Club held their monthly masterpoint tournament Tuesday evening at the Community Center. Winners in North-South were Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Gravelle, first place; Mrs. Evelyn Vandervort and Mrs. Emily Hudelson in second place; and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Steffens in third place.

Mrs. Mary Angier and Mrs. Trulee Rickets took first place honors in East-West; Mrs. Gertrude Bisnett and Mrs. Evelyn Lichty were in second place; and third place awards went to Mrs. Betty Leslie and Mrs. Mary Drobek.

It's a baby girl for former Valley residents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dufur of Carmel. Charlene Louise who arrived at the Community Hospital, weighed 6 1/2 pounds. Phyllis and Larry are also parents of a 2 1/2-year-old son, Brad. Grandparents of the youngsters are Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Dufur of Chaparral Rd.

Ronald Stoneys return from month in Turkey

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald B. Stoney have returned from a month-long trip to Turkey where they visited their daughter, Sue, and son-in-law Bill Morris. They met their newest grandchild, Elizabeth Marie, and also enjoyed her brothers, Andrew and Ronald.

Mr. Morris has been administrator of the Air Force Base American School at Karamursel for the past three years. Sue was formerly a teacher at Tularcitos School.

The Stoneys were loaned a car to drive to the historical site of Troy and visited Bergama and Izmir, a trip which took them through olive groves, farms of cotton, tobacco and melons, apple orchards and vineyards, with views of the Aegean and Marmora along the way. They left Turkey at Istanbul, stopping off at Athens, Rome and Amsterdam.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Papineau enjoyed a four week visit with Frank's brother, Alfred, and his wife, Annette who are presently enroute to their home in Pawtucket, R.I. During their stay at the Adobe Oaks they made side trips to San Francisco, San Juan Bautista, and enjoyed a five day tour of Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm, and the Los Angeles area with Carrie Papineau as their guide. The Papineau's son David, a Pfc. in the U.S. Marine Corps, is currently on "Rest and Recreation" in Tai Pai, China, from duty in Vietnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Black of Panetta Rd. have a well filled freezer following a successful deer hunting expedition to Fairview Canyon, Utah. The fall trip is the annual one for the Valley couple who join a hunting party headed by Jack's brother. In addition to the successful hunt, they enjoyed the spectacular display of autumn colors. Rae and Jack were accompanied by their youngest son, Blaine, who visited with his aunt while his parents were out on the hills.

Paso Hondo photographer goes to Death Valley

Ralph Payton of Paso Hondo has been attending the 18th annual encampment of the Death Valley '49ers, at Furnace Creek in Death Valley. The last encampment he attended was in 1963 and that one pulled in about 15,000 people so this is quite a spectacular affair.

One of the reasons that Payton is there is that he has entered the Photographer's Breakfast. Recently he received international recognition for several of his photographs in London.

Sam, Payton's short haired pointer, and his Siamese cat went along for the ride in their 24-foot travel trailer.

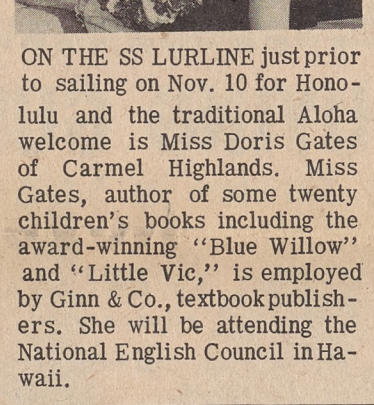
Storm drains go in Monterey County Road Dept. last week began installing a concrete storm drain along Village Dr. in Carmel Valley from the Carmel Valley Rd. intersection south approximately 500 feet. This project was financed cooperatively with the adjacent property owners.

Completion is expected by the end of November.



ON THE SS LURLINE just prior to sailing on Nov. 10 for Honolulu and the traditional Aloha welcome is Miss Doris Gates of Carmel Highlands. Miss Gates, author of some twenty children's books including the award-winning "Blue Willow" and "Little Vic," is employed by Ginn & Co., textbook publishers. She will be attending the National English Council in Hawaii.

In any given day a Telephone Repairman might help a lady whose phone cord was melted by her electric iron; fix a phone that was making "funny little noises" and replace a frayed wire. And you know, many people are surprised to find this service comes at no extra charge!

So if your phone ever goes out of order you might have to use the phone next door to call Repair Service. You'll find the number listed in the front pages of your phone book. We'll see that your phone is fixed as soon as possible.

From all of us here at Pacific Telephone on the Monterey Peninsula – best wishes to all of you for a pleasant Thanksgiving Day.

When you pick up your telephone to make a long distance call, it's entirely possible that your voice will be riding along the same communications trail as your favorite TV hero and his cowpony.

Your traveling companions might also include a teletyped report of a company's daily production, bits of fragmented information that only a computer can understand, or even the vital rhythms of a human heartbeat—and each without interfering with the other.

Yes, today's nationwide telephone system carries more than just telephone calls. The variety of communications traveling through telephone cable or radio wave, might even astound Alexander Graham Bell.

Laughs cost less today than in '63, because PG&E rates are lower.

While almost everything else in your cost of living has gone up in the last four years, there have been six reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates.

Your laughs may come from color TV now. And your listening pleasure may have doubled with stereo or an extra radio. So your PG&E bill may be higher.

But when you turn on PG&E energy for comfort, convenience and entertainment today, it costs you less because rates are lower. It's the biggest bargain in your family budget.

hc News from Hacienda Carmel

On Nov. 28 the annual bowling tournament gets under way. This will be a combination tournament with ladies competing with the men on an equal basis.

At a very special luncheon event on Monday, Nov. 13, Mr. Robert Browns, founder and director of the Hillbarn in San Mateo presented a play reading chosen by Hacienda Carmel residents who were present.

Mr. Edward Chapman, well-known Peninsula pianist, recently entertained Hacienda Carmel residents with an outstanding recital.

At the Nov. 16 Casa Lobos Luncheon Mr. A.C. ("Ace") Smith, executive representative of the Coast Valleys Division of PG&E, presented his slide and commentary entitled "East of Eden" – with apologies to John Steinbeck – as an example of what a man with a hobby can do. Mr. Smith's 20-minute presentation is a selection from his more than 2,000 photographic slides depicting the lovely and little-known byways of Monterey County.

Giant cranes, shovels, etc., have recently moved across the Hacienda Carmel bridge and into operating position on a piece of property procured from the Hatton holdings by the Carmel Sanitary District. These operations will remove Hacienda Carmel from the outmoded septic tank category and tie this 300-unit housing group into the Carmel Sanitary District jurisdiction. Residents of Hacienda Carmel will invest approximately $450,000 in this community improvement project.

The annual putting tourna- at Hacienda Carmel was held on Nov. 15 and 16. Twenty-eight men and women participated.

Overall championship was won by George Salter. A. Gordon Reid was runner-up.

Ladies' champion was Sue Young. Runner-up was Claire Wright.

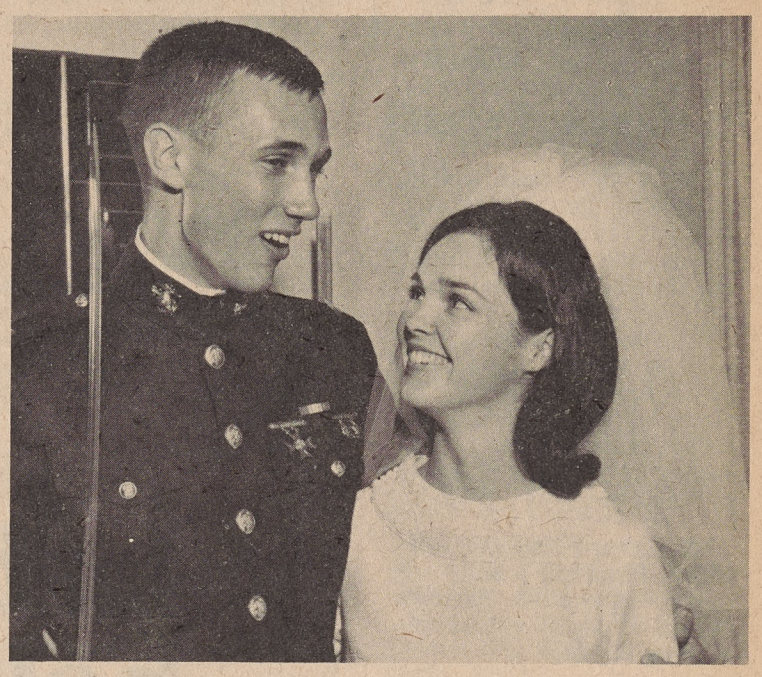
Chiropractor moves to larger quarters

Dr. Patricia May, Chiropractor, has moved her facilities to larger quarters upstairs in the Village Plaza Building on Del Fino Place.

She is expanding her chiropractic health service and future plans include installation of an x-ray unit so that complete spinographs may be taken when necessary.

Dr. May opened her Valley office last March after two years' practice in Pacific Grove.

Clifford-Hart wedding



THE GEORGE CLIFFORD JRS.

The marriage of Miss Patricia Lynn Hart to 2nd Lt. George Moore Clifford, Jr., USMC, was performed at St. Paul's Church in Burlingame early this month.

Miss Hart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Hart of San Mateo. She attended Willamette College and graduated from the University of California.

Lt. Clifford is the son of Capt. (U.S.N., ret.) and Mrs. George M. Clifford of Carmel Valley. He was graduated from the University of California in June, and received his commission in the Marine Corps following.

OCEAN VIEWS
IN AN ENCHANTED FOREST

Located in the wooded area some four miles down the Coast from the enchanted village of Carmel-by-the-Sea and the world-famous Pebble Beach golf course, here's a delightful spot hidden away just a few hundred yards off the main highway.

Beautiful ocean views, all wooded; one boundary is a canyon of virgin redwoods owned by Pt. Lobos Reserve—a permanent green belt, with Gipson Creek running musically through it all year round, extending your private forest by much, much more treasure. Wild strawberries, mushrooms, every bird in the area, all the big and little creatures of the Highlands forests, and magnificent trees all come with the land.

This isn't a property which has been sold and re-sold. The three acre parcel has been in the same ownership for over 30 years, and it has just now been surveyed and divided into three one-acre parcels.

One acre is entirely unimproved, one is unimproved except for a small guest house rented for $85 per month, and the middle acre has a charming, comfortable old residence with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, and a guest room.

During his 30 year residency the doctor-owner has developed a famous collection of rhododendrons, oriental magnolias, camellias, and has discovered that growing conditions are the same as Golden Gate Park in San Francisco -- frost-free climate, intermittent summer fog, spring water, and ideal soil. The planting has been done right in the forest, so there is no "landscaped" look.

The package price is $100,000, We could consider selling one acre, if you want only a building site for your own home, at $26,500.

Reuben Tice, local inventor, dies from explosion

Funeral serveices for Reuben Sidney Tice, Carmel Valley inventor, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove.

Mr. Tice was found dead in his electrical shop in Monterey early Saturday morning, the result of a chemical explosion. He had been working on his latest experiment to find a way to take wrinkles out of prunes.

He was a pioneer in electrical radiant heating and was well known for many inovations. Born in Salinas, he grew up in Pacific Grove.

He is survived by his wife, Charlotte, and daughter, Barbara Veach of Carmel Valley. Other daughters are Mrs. Sidney West, Virginia; Mrs. Hazel Fike, Pebble Beach, and Mrs. Wilma Smith, Pacific Grove. He is also survived by a sister, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Xmas creations

PATRONS OF THE Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art, Mrs. Richard Cotchett, right, and Mrs. Thomson Hudson, admire the angel designed and made by Doris Pritchard for the Christmas Creations sale to be held Dec. 5-6 at the Mark Thomas Inn.

A SANTO from Mexico shows the typical ecclesiastical art from that country, which is among the old church art on display at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art. It is part of a collection from Carmel Mission.
